

Dear FCC, Having another organization trying to stop another from offering something that is completely legal is absurd. Thats like your neighbor next door saying to you, "Hey you cant buy that car, or you cant have that in your house" Its the same concept if you look at it. And plus we XM listeners pay for this valueble information. Why should someone else who has nothing to do with it take it away? Should that same neighbor be able to come and take away from you, whatever it is he told you not to get? In my opinion thats the most foolish thing Ive ever heard. And I cant understand why someone would want to take away such a valueable and useful service. Think if you heading to a large city or surrounding area of an area XM provides information about. Its great and convienient to just switch to the channel and be able to find out whats goin on, or if its ok that day for a trip. Thats a great service who would want to take it away? Not to mention all the people who "Are Paying" for the radio and rely on the service for this important information. Are you goin to let that "Neighbor" ruin that kind of valueable information? To top it all off its just Traffic and Weather, theres nothing about it that could ever offend someone or degrade someone. Its just like switching on the Weather Channel. You pay for that in your monthly cable bill. Just as we pay for it in our monthly satellite bill. So perhaps they would like to take the Weather Channel off the air too. This is foolish and to take something away like this would be an act of greed and selfishness. I hope our Government wouldnt act on those types of traits. Plus theres alot more important things to take care of. XM has done nothing wrong, therefore they do not need to punished by taking away a great and useful service of theres. Please make the right choice and let XM and the listeners keep what is rightfully theres.

Thanks,
Eric Bason